

WHO MANAGES THE THEATER?

A Dramatic Editor Give His Views Regarding It.

L. J. Levey Writes a Letter, but it is Not Printed—William Dailey's Success Established.

Recently L. J. Levey sent a letter to the San Francisco Music and Drama for publication. The editor refused to print it, giving the following reasons:

"L. J. Levey, who for several years, was sole agent and manager for the proprietors of the Royal Hawaiian Theater during the late monarchy, objects strenuously to the announcement that the house is at present under the management of W. R. Dailey, and sends a letter to Music and Drama, in which he claims that he is still in charge of the only theater in Honolulu, having been its manager since October 23, 1891. He makes some statements in the letter referred to against Manager Dailey of a purely personal nature, which it would be manifestly unjust to publish, and also sends clippings from two Hawaiian papers to strengthen his statements and position. The fact that Mr. Dailey played two extended engagements in Honolulu, evidently financially successful, since his company was paid in full, and presumably successful from an artistic view, judging from the great praise the performance received from the leading Hawaiian papers, seems to be established. The question as to who now controls the bookings of the theater is a matter that any manager who contemplates a visit to Hawaii can easily ascertain. Mr. Levey has played a number of first-class attractions in the islands and has been a prominent merchant and citizen of Honolulu for years. There is no reason why there should be any controversy between the parties mentioned, as they are not likely to want the theater at the same time or to clash with each other in engagements, as the firm of Spreckels & Co., who own the property, will attend to that part of the business."

NINE SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Account of Christmas Gathering at Waihee.

On Christmas Day over three hundred Hawaiians, from nine Sunday schools in the districts of Makawao and Wailuku, Maui, gathered at the Waihee church on the occasion of the annual Sunday school exhibition, held in the holiday season at different centers. Each of the nine schools took part during a four hours' programme with great credit to themselves and their leaders and to the enjoyment of the congregation present.

Scriptural recitations, biblical catechising, and singing, made up the contribution from each Sunday school; all parts, particularly the singing, deserving notice and reflecting credit on both singers and leaders.

Three judges—N. Kealoha, David Kehaulilio, and D. N. Oponui—with the approval of the audience, awarded the chief honors for the best performances to the schools of Wailuku, Makawao and Waihee.

The Wailuku school gave an oratorio directed by Pastor Kapu who had himself arranged music and composed words on the theme of Moses leading the people out of captivity and into the land of promise. The superior style of composition and rendering, with the fine voices of this choir, made a feature that would have been an attraction at any concert.

Makawao school, led by Judge Kalama, made an excellent record for itself with good singing, as did also Waihee, led by Robert Nawahina. The interesting feature of the last school was the large number of young people and children, who took part with excellent effect.

The exercises throughout, of unusual interest and excellence, were marked by harmony and courtesy, and there was an entire absence of any political allusions in the several acceptable addresses that followed the exhibition.

A point of general comment was the appearance of the church, which, in preparation for this festival and the New Year, the pastor and members had with their own hands scrubbed, painted and whitewashed, inside and out. A comfortable outdoor luau closed the proceedings of a pleasant day.

Erysipelas in the Face

Nearly Blind, But Perfectly Cured

Health, Appetite and Strength Renewed by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Hood's Sarsaparilla is splendid. I had long been troubled with erysipelas, and three times had it in my head and face. I became nearly blind and my hair all came out. My husband wished me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I only took three bottles before

I was free from my old-time trouble and long sufferings. It has never returned until last winter while I was ill with the grip, a slight attack broke out on my face. After my sickness I was not well; became easily tired and lost my appetite. I resumed taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and am now using the fourth bottle and can run up and down stairs as spry as ever. The tired feeling is gone and I have a good appetite.' Mrs. Wm. E. Baringer, Olive Ridge, New York.

There are a great many homes having zinc-lined bath tubs that are in good condition with this one exception: they lack the features of a porcelain lining. How to overcome this without going to the expense of getting a new tub, has been a question that has worried a great many.

One pot of our WHITE ENAMEL PAINT will do the work, forming as it does a GLOSSY SURFACE, almost equal in hardness and durability to that of porcelain itself, being at the same time hardly distinguishable from porcelain.

Consult your physician and he will tell you by all means to paint your bath tub with Enamel Paint.

The KEYSTONE EGG BEATERS are little gems. Try one if you want your eggs quickly and thoroughly beaten.

We also call your special attention to our economical BARREL and CYLINDER CHURNS, they are easy workers, have all sizes and prices.
